

from treecrope and upper floors of buildings that were later swept away. In scores of cases soldiers, unhesitatingly risked their lives to save others.

Early to-morrow an organized search of the wreckage in the district swept by the worst flood in the city's history will be started, and by to-morrow night an accurate toll of the dead is expected to be known.

Relief Work Well Organized
Relief work has been organized by various charitable and commercial organizations, and practically all of the flood refugees are housed in tents in the city's outskirts to-night.

In the Gunther Hotel the water rose to fifteen feet. The flood forced the doors of store buildings and destroyed goods upon the shelves. All the theaters and moving picture houses were flooded.

The waters came suddenly and rose so rapidly that many pedestrians upon the business streets, even in the early part of the night, were forced to seek refuge in the higher floors of office buildings. For several hours all telephone and telephone communication was cut off. The water reached a height of seven feet in the local telephone exchange building.

Although all of the rivers and smaller streams of this part of the state are on rampage, most of the people living in the valleys along their courses are believed to have reached places of safety before the floods came.

Colorado River Threatening
The Guadalupe, San Marcos, Rio, Nueces and Comal rivers are out of their banks. The Colorado River is rising rapidly, and threatens to flood all of the rich valley along its lower course. It is already overflowing the lowlands at a number of places.

At Austin the torrential downpour was accompanied by two cyclones, one striking the southern suburbs and the other passing just north of the city. Several houses were blown down and a few persons slightly injured. At Creedmore, ten miles south of Austin, a cyclone destroyed a number of buildings.

All unpicked cotton in the storm territory was beaten out of the bolls and into the ground. The loss from this source alone will aggregate many millions of dollars. It is said the pickings were about three-fourths over, however, and the loss will not be as great as it would have been otherwise.

It is asserted by local municipal authorities that food and medical help from the outside for the sufferers here are not needed at present. It would be almost impossible for relief parties to reach the city because of the disabled railroads and wagon roads.

Many citizens volunteered their help and the homeless and helpless victims of the flood are being taken care of in a satisfactory way.

Rain is still falling in some parts of the afflicted area, but unless there is a repetition of the torrential downpour of last night, flood conditions are not expected to again occur. The waters of the streams that caused the flood here have subsided to a great degree.

Driftwood May Hide Dead
SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 10. (By The Associated Press.)—Great piles of driftwood which have lodged in trees and against bridges, when removed, it is feared, will reveal additional dead bodies from the flood. Many bodies also are believed to have floated down stream and may never be accounted for.

Such structures as the Brady Building, Wolf & Marx Department Store, Storer's, St. Mary's Church and school buildings, the Elks Club, formerly the Travis Club, several hospitals, the central telephone exchange, the City Hall and police and fire headquarters and countless other structures along the low-lying river valley were in the path of the flood. The flood reached to the Alamo Plaza on the east, five blocks from the river.

Swept Down by Current
The electric display accompanying the storm was the most vivid ever seen in the city. Lights flashed almost continuously, and the residents, unable to get out because of the downpour, went early to bed. A roar was heard, subdued, but ominous, as the flood waters broke upon the town.

"It was impossible to stand on your feet against the swift current," said one man who escaped from his home before the force of the flood struck. "I got away early as the first waters rose, and even then I was compelled to cling to buildings, trees, fences and wreckage to get out. I could not stand against the water. When the crest came a few minutes later I do not believe any human being could have withstood it."

A seized hold of a picket fence," said one youth. "Just as the flood struck. The fence was torn away, and when I got out I still had one of the pickets in my hand. I don't know how I got out."

The Identified Dead
The identified dead are:
Mrs. Vashinder, initials and residence unknown.
James Ellis West, Boy Scout, 508 Taylor Street.
Alice Dragger, eight months old, 2425 South Flores Street.
Mrs. Emma Gorin, 414 Furnish Avenue.
Corin baby, seventeen months old.
The bodies of six women and thirteen children, all Mexican, are among those recovered.

Eight Injured in Great Burst of Rain in Texas

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 10.—Eight persons were injured, one seriously, as the result of a terrific downpour of rain and the tornado at South Austin and Creedmore yesterday. Most of the injured were from Creedmore and vicinity.

In the twenty-four hours ending at 7 o'clock this morning, 18.25 inches of rain had fallen in Austin, according to Fred Morris, local government weather observer. It was the heaviest precipitation ever recorded here for twenty-four hours, he said. The rain was the first here since July 8.

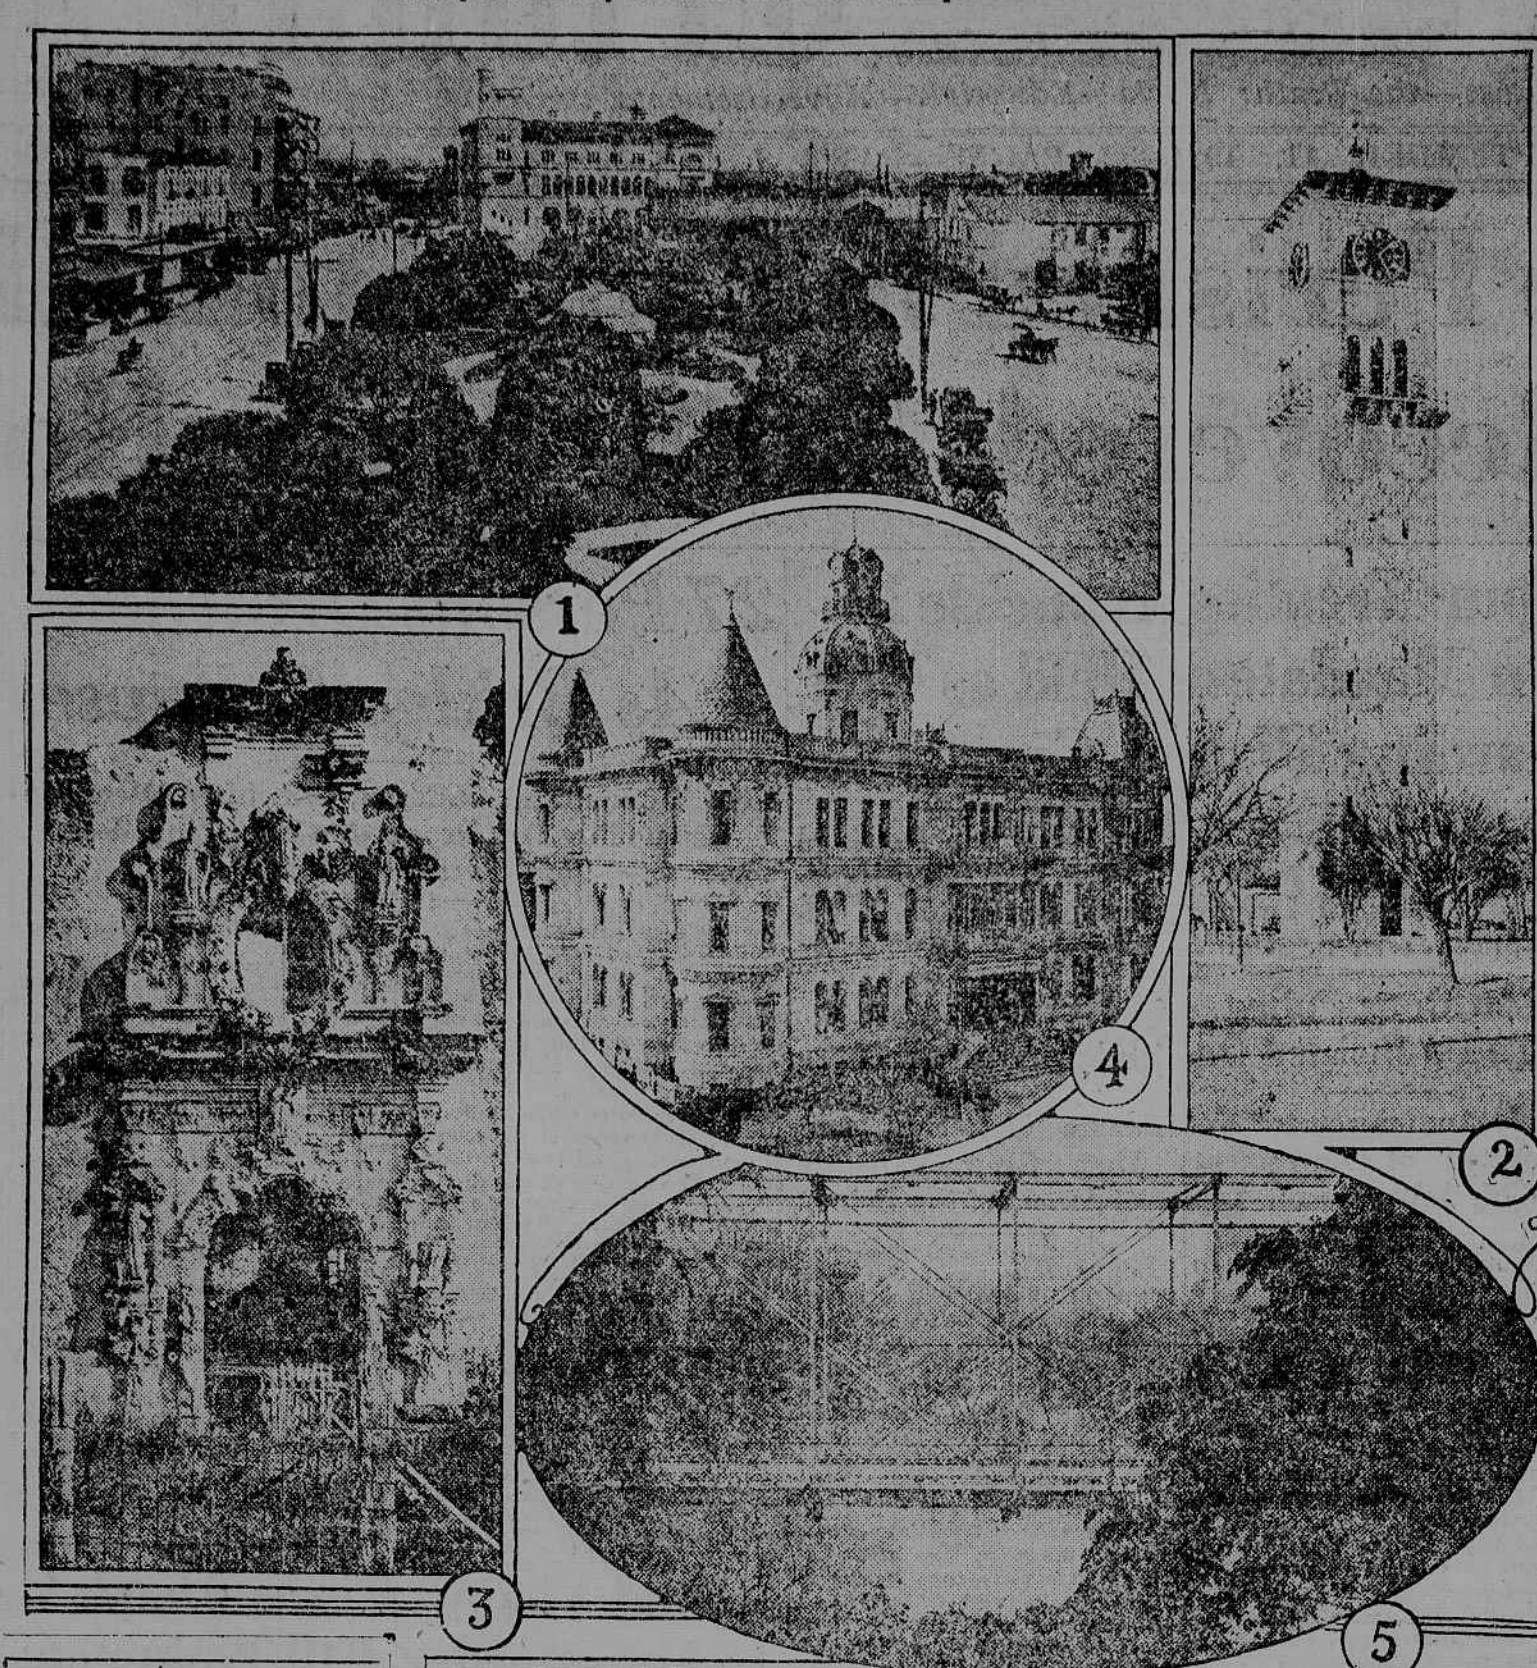

WACO, Tex., Sept. 10.—Advices today from Cameron, sixty miles south of Waco, said great damage had been done in Milan County to property, especially growing crops, by flood waters on the Little River following a rain fall of about 11.45 inches. A trestle of the Santa Fe Railroad over Little River, was washed out, it was said.

HOUSTON, Tex., Sept. 10.—According to telephone information from Bastrop, the Colorado River at that point was up 25 feet at 11 o'clock Saturday morning and still rising. The river had already broken over the banks in low places and it was expected that it would rise at least six or eight feet more.

A report from the weather observer at Taylor, Tex., to the Houston Weather Bureau at 10:30 to-night, states that 29.63 inches of rain has fallen there in the last twenty-four hours. An official message from Valley Junction states that Valley Junction, near Hearne, Tex., is under water. Practically all communication out of Houston to points in the flooded area are broken, but meager reports show considerable areas affected.

SAN MARCOS, Tex., Sept. 10.—A large section of San Marcos was flooded today, due to a sudden overflow of the San Marcos and Blanco Rivers, but property damage is slight. The power plant was put out of commission temporarily.

Chief Points of Interest in Flood-Swept San Antonio

Wall of Water 10 to 30 Feet High Reported

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 10.—Men who were in the midst of the great flood here today variously describe the wall of water which rushed upon the city as from ten to thirty feet high. It struck with a rush that carried houses from their foundations, swept motor cars away, destroyed concrete bridges, tore down trees and poles and ripped up the paving in the streets like so many pebbles.

Red Cross Prepares To Aid Flood Victims

Acts Before Any Request for Help Is Received by Sending Agents to San Antonio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—While no request for assistance had come from San Antonio as a result of the flood there, the American Red Cross announced today that its field directors in cities and towns near San Antonio had been directed to hold themselves in readiness to go to the stricken city at call.

S. A. Shaw, of Port Travis, near San Antonio, has charge of the situation pending the arrival of officials now en route from St. Louis.

A full report is expected upon the arrival of the St. Louis agents, and on this report further action will be based.

Texas Floods Kill Trainman; Tie Up Traffic

(Continued from page one)

vice could not be resumed before to-morrow. Highways leading to the capital are impassable.

The Santa Fe Railroad trestle over Little River was washed away, the advices added. Rain totaling 11.45 inches fell there.

The town of San Marcos was under water this morning and without light or power, although later reports said that the water was receding. The tracks of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas and the International and Great Northern railroads were torn from the roadbeds for several hundred feet.

Eleven Bridges Gone
Although railroad officials at Houston were without definite knowledge today as to the extent of damage to tracks of the various systems, it was indicated that the most serious was confined between Austin and Elgin, and at San Antonio and West.

An announcement made by the Texas-Mexican Railroad at Corpus Christi last night said that eleven bridges and 6,000 feet of their track had been washed out between Corpus Christi and Laredo. Service between these points cannot be resumed before to-morrow.

The pontoon bridge across the Rio Grande between Laredo, Tex., and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, was destroyed by flood waters, reports stated.

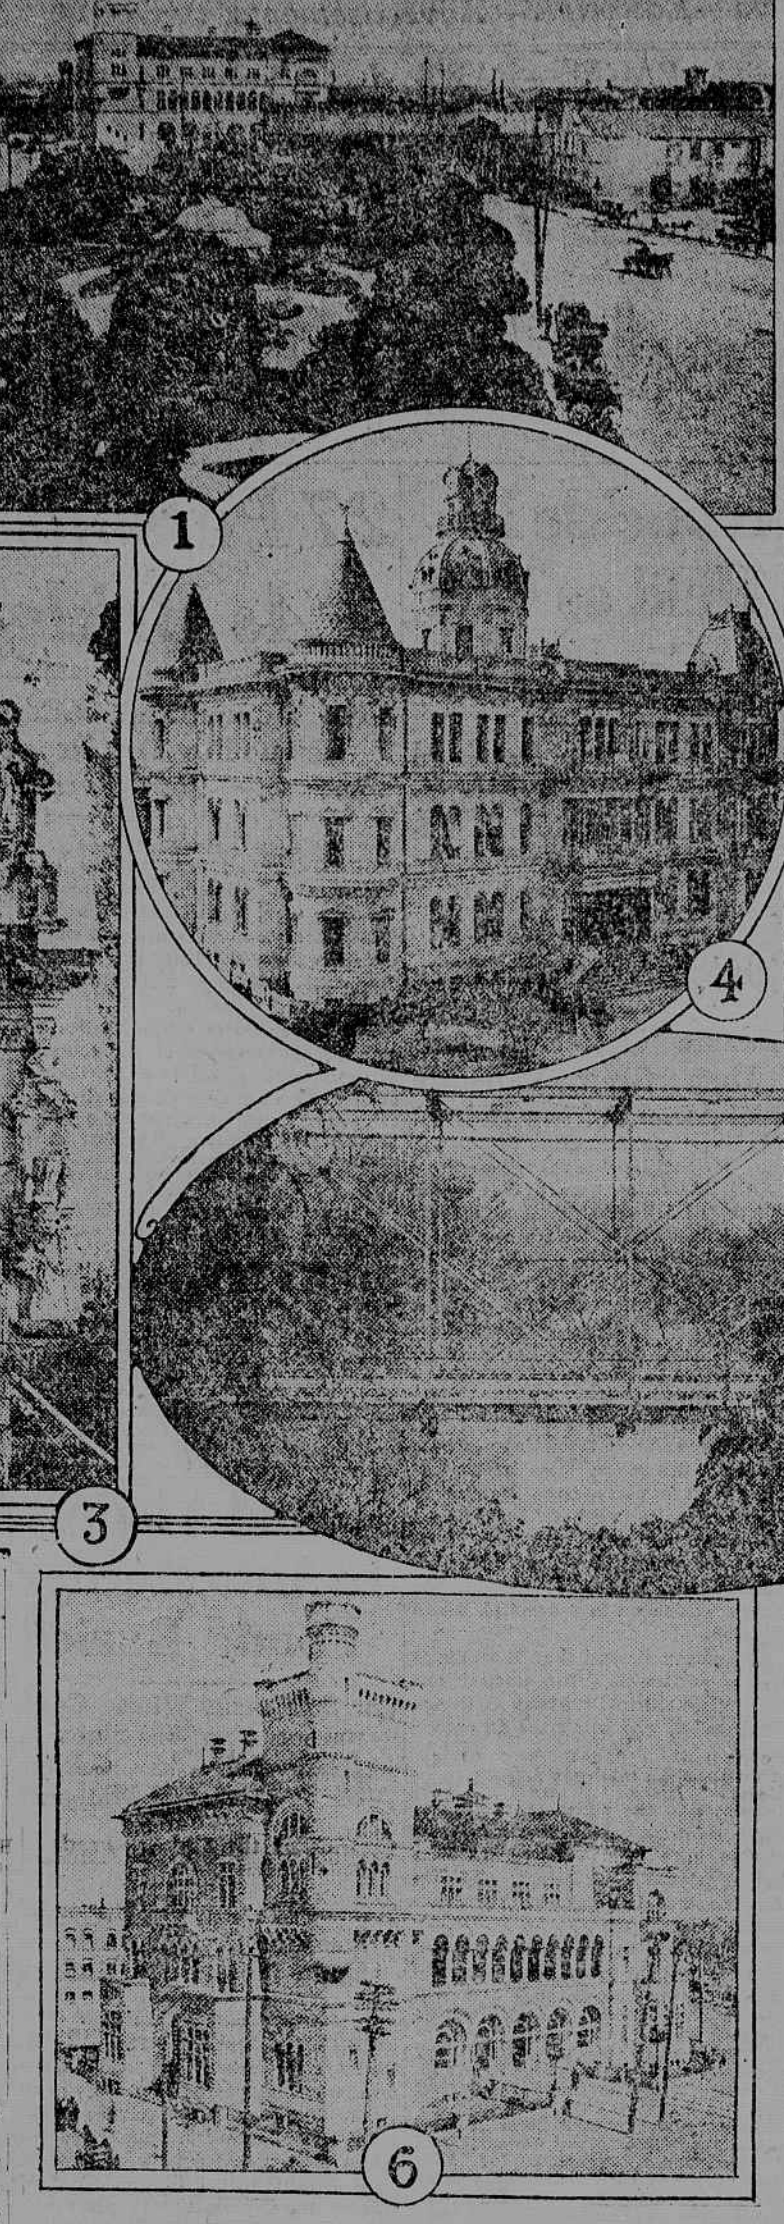

In last advices the business district of Laredo was reported inundated by flood waters.

At Georgetown and vicinity fourteen inches of rain swelled streams out of their banks, causing much crop damage. The south-bound Texas Special was unable to detour on account of washouts and a reported wreck on the International & Great Northern Railroad.

VOTE IN THE PRIMARY!
If you are enrolled you are privileged to vote at your party's primary on Tuesday, September 13.

POLLS OPEN FROM 3 TO 9 P. M.

20 Black Hand Crimes Cleared By Paid Slayer

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

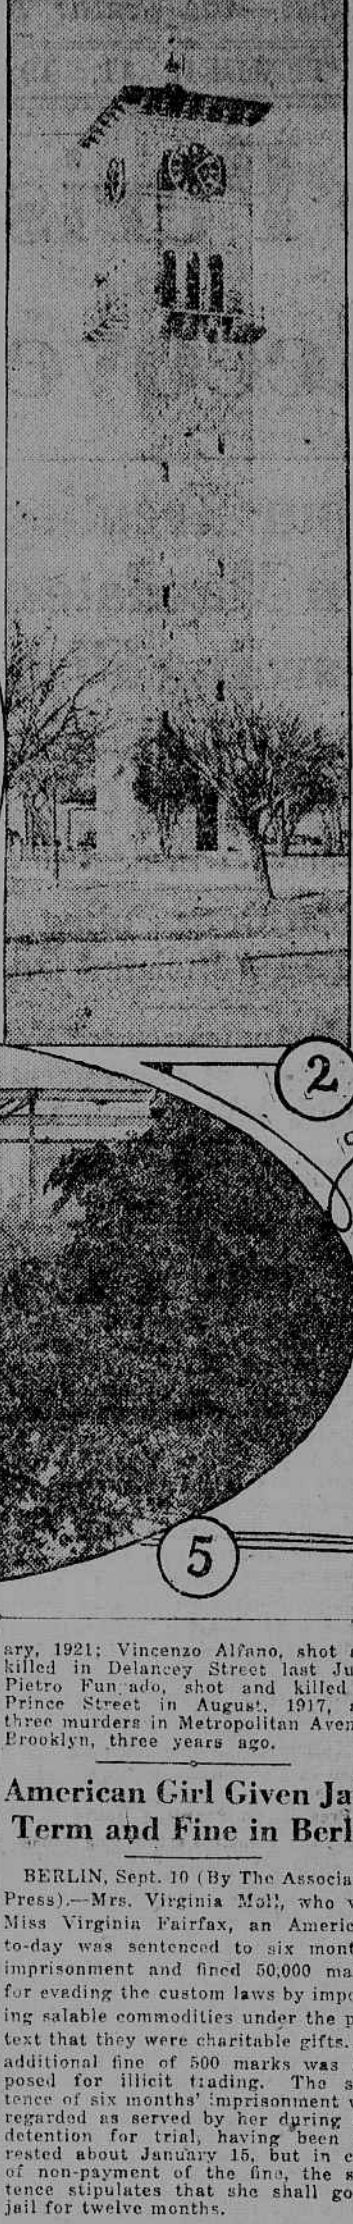

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

U. S. to Operate School For Detectives Here

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

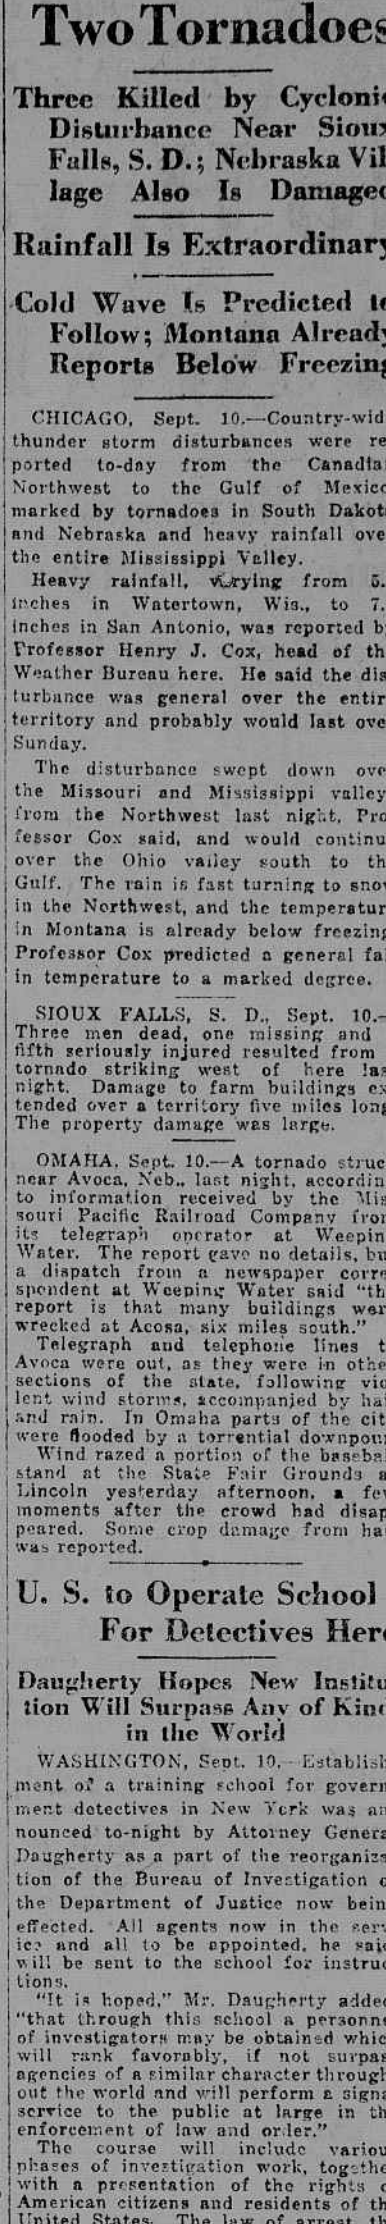

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

Middle West Is Storm Swept; Two Tornadoes

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

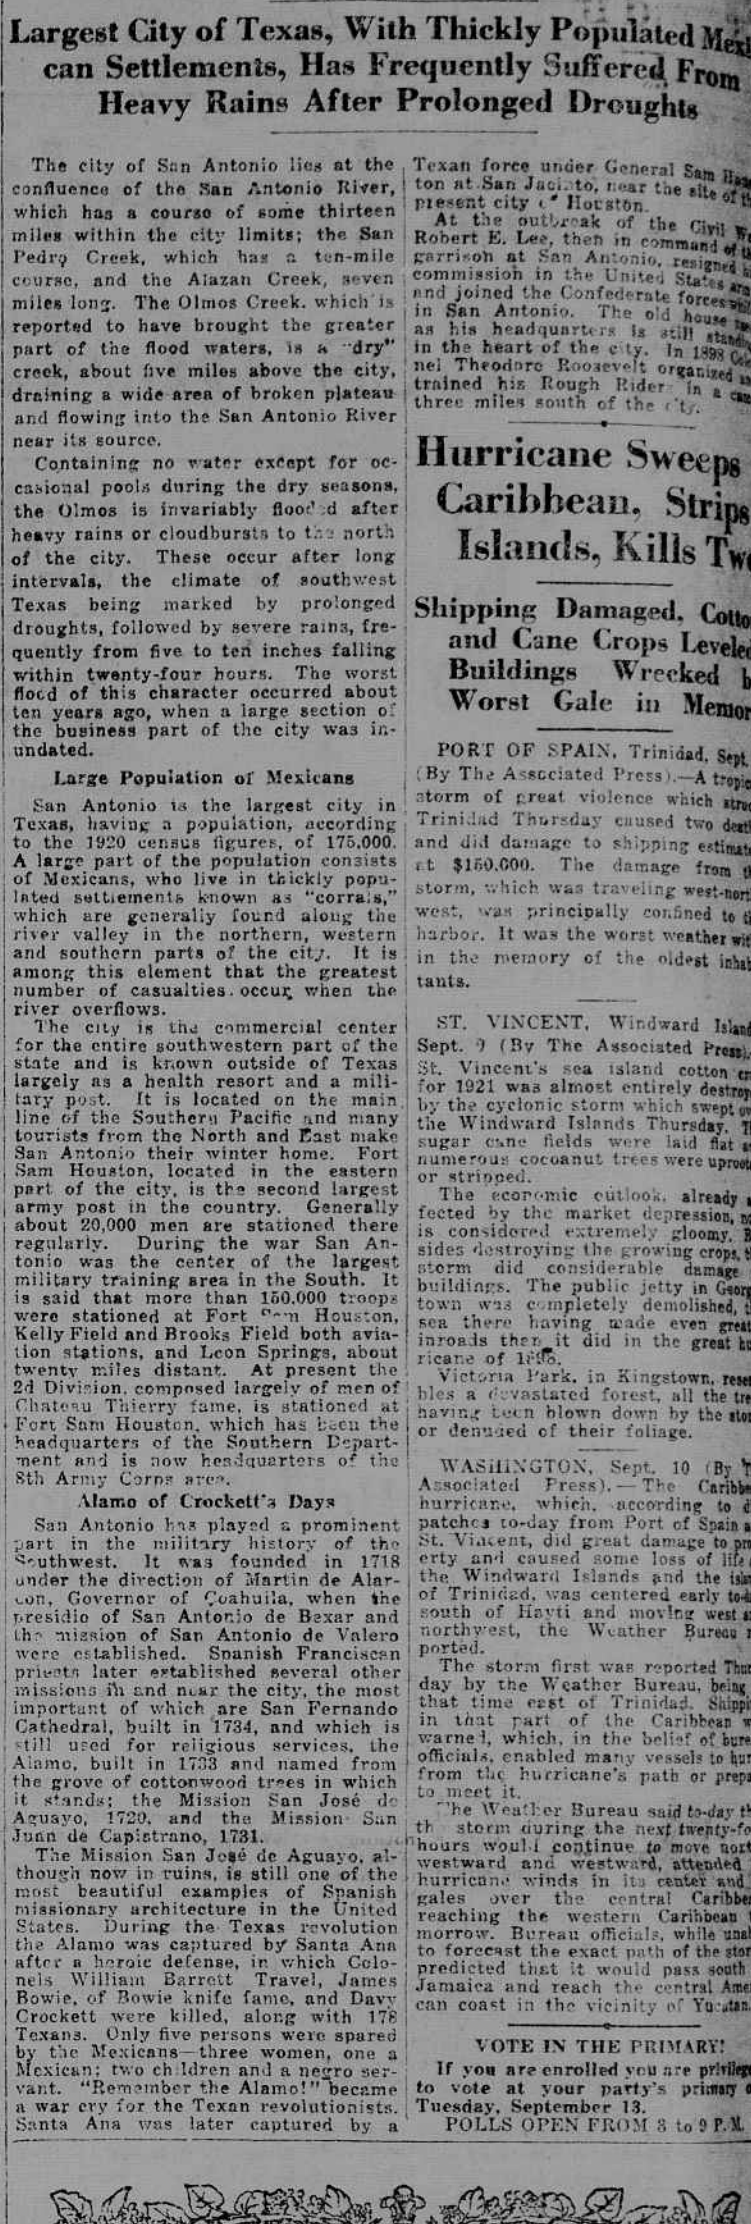

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

San Antonio, Home of the Alamo, Often Menaced by Flood Waters

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

San Antonio, Home of the Alamo, Often Menaced by Flood Waters

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.

Held for Further Hearing
Alas was arraigned yesterday in Es-

San Antonio, Home of the Alamo, Often Menaced by Flood Waters

(1) Alamo Plaza (not damaged). (2) The tower at the government fort. (3) Portal of the Mission San Jose. (4) City Hall. (5) San Antonio River and the Navarro Street bridge. (6) Postoffice.

sex Market Court in custody of Detective J. Caselli, who brought him from Detroit. Magistrate John E. McGeehan held Alas without bail for further hearing next Wednesday.

Six of the murder crimes cleared by yesterday's supplemental confessions were committed outside New York. The murders solved in this district are as follows:

Antonio Messara and Antonio Di Boneditti, both killed on Roebbling Street, Brooklyn, November 1, 1917.
Francis Linde, killed in Brooklyn in June. Linde was asked to point out a certain man who has never been identified. He pointed out the man, and the trio robbed the dead man of a gold watch and a small sum of money. One of the alleged assistant murderers was Antonio Curatolo, shot and killed on July 3, 1919, by police charge, by Carlo Barbara.